

Sant Gadge Baba Amravati University, Amravati

Applications are invited on plain paper for, Rajiv Gandhi Science and Technology Commission (Government of Maharashtra), Mumbai sponsored Major Research Project entitled, 'Development of Novel Urinary Catheter that prevents colonization, biofilm formation and encrustation by bacterial pathogens' granted to Dr. Niraj Ghanwate, Assistant Professor, Department of Microbiology, Sant Gadge Baba Amravati University, Amravati, for the following post

1. Lab worker: B. Sc. (Microbiology/Biochemistry) with knowledge of sterilization and preparation of media, decontamination of cultures, laboratory waste management, etc @ 8000/- PM without any allowances. The post is sanctioned for two years or till completion of the project whichever is earlier.

The recruited will join the duties with the assurance of successful completion of the project.

Applications should be emailed to pvthakare@sgbau.ac.in on or before 5th March 2021 till 5.00 pm.

Candidates will be informed by email or sms about the interview details.

The interview will be conducted by online mode only.

Registrar